

Native American, French Encampment in South Berwick

Written by Brian
Monday, 06 July 2009 09:46 -

As reported on www.fosters.com :

SOUTH BERWICK, Maine — A "living history" presentation of a Native American and French encampment will be held on Saturday, July 18, at the town's riverfront museum and park.

Sponsored by the Old Berwick Historical Society, owner of the Counting House Museum, the program is free to all ages and runs from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Presentations will be held rain or shine at the museum and at nearby Counting House Park on the Salmon Falls River.

For more information about this exciting opportunity to witness this living history event, you can read more in the fosters.com article:

http://www.fosters.com/apps/pbcs.dll/article?AID=/20090706/GJNEWS_01/707069868/-1/FOSNEWS or visit the Old Berwick Historical Society's web site at:

<http://www.obhs.net/>